* The individual or group price is depending on your demand. For example, if you can call for more people (i.e, your classmates, friends, or someone from the Facebook you don't know personally but you know they plan to take the board exam) to choose this review class, that will be group study and the price will be switched to group price based on the size of the group. If it is only you to choose this review class, you will pay an individual price.

What does each module review course for four weeks entail?

- Course videos (including cases discussion, problem-based learning, effective problem solving skills, test-taken skills, foundation building, class study materials)
